

Guidelines for Insured Persons (ESIC)

(Prepared in accordance with the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 and the Employees' State Insurance (General) Regulations, 1950)

1. Registration of Employees and Dependents

Employees already registered under ESIC and holding a 10-digit Insurance Number must inform HR immediately.

It is illegal to hold multiple ESIC registration numbers.

All employees must provide the following details at the time of registration:

- The spelling of the name on the Salary Sheet must exactly match Aadhaar.
- PAN Card – The spelling on Aadhaar must also match PAN.
- Cell Number (with an alternate number if available).
- Bank Account Number with IFSC Code.

Please ensure your Aadhaar KYC is updated with your latest biometrics and current mobile number.

Employees (first-time or already registered) must fill up the Declaration Form giving complete details of self and dependents.

Dependents include:

- Spouse
- Unmarried son up to 18 years of age
- Unmarried daughter (no age limit)
- Dependent brothers/sisters up to 18 years of age
- Parents whose monthly income is less than or up to ₹9,000. Income Certificate is required from Tehsildar / Collector Office to add the names of the dependent parents in case their names are not already mentioned on the ESIC Card.

Photographs of the employee and all dependent family members are mandatory.

Physically Challenged Employees (Persons with Disabilities):

Employees with a disability of 40% or more are covered up to a Wage limit of ₹25,000 per month.

Such employees must produce a certificate from the competent medical authority specifying the percentage of disability.

Such employees will be registered as Ordinary Insured Persons / Insured Women, they will then be issued with E-Pehchan card. These employees will have to visit the ESIC Branch Office mentioned on their E-Pehchaan card or their nearest ESIC Branch Office with their Original Disability Certificate and Aadhaar card plus photocopies of the same and get themselves marked as Physically Challenged Employees by the Branch Manager of ESIC.

2. After Receiving Your ESIC Number / E-Pehchan Card

Once registered, the employee must:

- Download “ESIC HEALTH CONNECT” (ESIC Mobile App) from Google Play Store.
- Download AadhaarFace RD App (for biometric verification).
- Map Aadhaar for self and family to the ESIC Insurance Number using these apps.

The “ESIC Health Connect” app uses facial recognition from Aadhaar Face RD for Aadhaar mapping.

Ensure AadhaarFace RD permissions are granted before mapping begins.

Use the app to locate your nearest ESIC doctor, dispensary, or hospital. You may also find this information via Google or www.esic.nic.in.

3. Medical Treatment Procedure and Entitlement

Employees registered with ESIC are entitled to Outpatient (OPD) and In-Patient treatment from Day 1 of registration.

Elective Treatment (Planned Procedures) refers to non-emergency procedures planned in advance.

Examples of Elective Treatment:

- Cataract surgery
- Hernia repair
- Knee or hip replacement
- Dental procedures (non-urgent)
- Gall bladder removal
- Cosmetic/non-essential surgery

Not Elective:

- Heart attack treatment
- Stroke care
- Emergency injury or accident surgeries
- Severe infection or bleeding

Employees must approach ESIC dispensaries/hospitals for all treatments. If treatment is taken privately without ESIC referral, it will be at own cost.

Reimbursement may be permitted only for emergencies in recognized hospitals, at CGHS rates. Processing time is usually not less than 120 working days after claim acceptance.

Always approach the ESIC doctor or dispensary first. For guidance, contact the ESIC Toll-Free Helpline: 1800-11-2526 / 1800-11-3839.

4. Recording ESIC Leave and Medical Absence

When availing treatment under ESIC, ensure that your absence from work is marked as “ESIC Sickness Leave” and not adjusted against company Sick, Casual, or Privilege Leave. If your leave is compensated from Sick Leave / Casual / Privilege Leave or Compassionate leave granted by employer on medical grounds the same will not be compensated by ESIC.

5. ESIC Benefits (Cash & Medical)

A. Medical Benefit

Comprehensive medical care for self and family from the first day of joining insurable employment.

Includes free consultation and medicines at ESIC dispensaries/hospitals.

Employees should always consult ESIC doctors who will guide them to the nearest ESIC-affiliated pharmacy for free medicines.

Super Specialty Treatment (SST):

As per ESIC circulars and the Delhi High Court judgment in E.S.I. Corporation vs. K. N. Venkatappa (W.P. (C) 12573/2018), insured persons who meet the statutory conditions under the Act are entitled to Super Specialty Treatment. The Delhi High Court has held that Super Specialty Treatment entitlement is available from Day 1 as per the Act and the matter is still subjudice, ESI Corporation has issued instructions that Super Specialty Treatment will be available from Day 1 on case to case basis

Where eligible, SST is available for the insured person and dependents in recognized institutions subject to ESIC procedures and prior authorisation where required.

B. Maternity Benefit

100% of average daily wages for up to 26 weeks (confinement) and 8 weeks (miscarriage).

Available after 12 months of continuous contribution.

Can be claimed even if treatment was taken privately; production of Birth Certificate and eligibility proof is sufficient.

Apply at the ESIC Branch Office printed on your E-Pehchan Card.

C. Disablement Benefit

Monthly payment during temporary disablement; lifelong payment for permanent total disablement.

Covers employment injury, defined as any injury or medical condition arising out of and in the course of employment, including during travel between home and place of work within reasonable time.

D. Dependent Benefit

Monthly pension payable to dependents in fixed proportions in case of death due to employment injury.

E. Confinement Expenses

₹5,000 per case where ESIC medical facilities are unavailable.

Payable to insured woman or wife of insured man.

Claim to be filed at the Branch Office mentioned on the E-Pehchan Card.

F. Old Age Medical Care

Available to insured persons retiring on superannuation, VRS/ERS, or permanent disability.

Contribution: ₹120 per annum for self and spouse.

Eligibility: Continuous contribution for 5 years immediately before retirement.

G. Unemployment Allowance – Atal Bimit Vyakti Kalyan Yojana

Monthly cash allowance up to 25% of average earnings for 90 days, payable for up to 12 months.

For insured persons who lose employment involuntarily or due to non-employment injury.

Directly credited to the insured person's bank account.

H. Vocational Training & Physical Rehabilitation

Payment of actual training fee or ₹123 per day (whichever is higher) for insured persons disabled due to employment injury.

100% of wages during rehabilitation period.

I. Funeral Expenses

Actual expenses up to ₹15,000 for the funeral of a deceased insured person.

Payable in cash to the eldest surviving family member or person incurring the expense.

6. Contribution and Benefit Periods

Contribution Period	Corresponding Benefit Period
April – September	January – June (next year)
October – March	July – December (next year)

Benefits such as Sickness and Maternity are linked to the above contribution and benefit cycles.

7. Key ESIC Contacts

Branch Office Directory: <https://www.esic.nic.in/branch-offices>

Medical Helpline (24x7): 1800-11-3839

ESIC General Helpline (24x7): 1800-11-2526

8. Reference Note

These guidelines are prepared in line with:

- Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948
- Employees' State Insurance (General) Regulations, 1950
- ESIC Revenue Manual
- ESIC Official FAQ Booklet (Latest Edition)

These guidelines are for awareness and compliance facilitation and cannot be cited as a legal document.

For statutory interpretation, refer to the above sources or consult your HR/Compliance Department.

This document is intended for awareness and internal circulation. All information is verified against ESIC Act, Regulations, and ESIC Headquarters circulars current as of October 2025